

Here are a few photos from the March meeting of the East Row Garden Club. After a short business meeting, we listened to a local expert explain all aspects of composting – from the why to the how and all the details along the way. Garden Club member's expertise on this subject ranged from beginner to expert. This led to great questions, answers and conversations between the group and the speaker. For useful information on composting go to the following website location: www.epa.gov/recycle/composting-home.

COMPOSTING – an interesting subject that brought out a large crowd.

Winter is all but over! And wonderful food contributed to a celebratory atmosphere.

All aspects of composting were illustrated thoroughly by the slide show.

Audience attention remained engaged throughout the comprehensive presentation.

If you are looking for a useful guide to composting, there is one on Hamilton County, Ohio's website that can be downloaded as a PDF.

- Go to: www.hcdoes.org/345/Hamilton-County-R3Source
- Search: 'compost'
- Choose: A Simple Guide to Composting in Your Back Yard

There are also later guides in this location. Take a look and choose one.